N. Urges Quick Cease-Fire

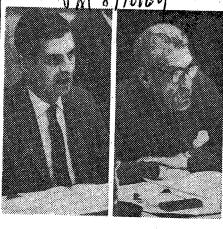

By Louis B. Fleming The Los Angeles Times

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. Aug. 9-The Security Council made a double appeal today for an immediate ceasefire in Cyprus as the clock ticked away on two ultimatums to extend the war in the troubled island.

Communist members of the Council raised no objection to the first ceasefire appeal made in identical cables from the Council President, Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway, to Turkey and Cyprus.

But the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia abstained from the vote on a formal ceasefire resolution later in the meeting to register their pique that the Council had not singled out Turkey as the culprit.

There was an undercurrent of anguish and anger among lowed Monday by a report form the U.N. peace-keeping most of the Council members from Secretary General U as the Cypriot delegation, sup- Thant presenting a verified ported by the two Communist U.N. account of the communal members of the Council, fighting and Turkish air raids stalled the vote for more than of the last four days. three hours.

Ambassadors Dimitri S. Bitsios, of Greece, at left, Zenon Rossides, of Cyprus, and Orhan Eralp, of Turkey, at right, listen to speeches during the United Nations Security Council session in New York. The Council approved a joint resolution yesterday calling for an immediate cease-fire in Cyprus.

A Swedish source here said The meeting will be fol- that his nation's troops, who units in the troubled northwest, had suffered no casualties so far.

meeting was the second in 24 ent kind of resolution. Roshours. It convened less than on record condemning only 12 hours after adjournment of the Turkish air raids and esan earlier meeting at which tablishing sanctions against Cyprus had blocked adoption Turkey. of a ceasefire resolution.

riots and Greece itself passed Anglo-American resolution was without occurrence of that merely a screen to protect the threatened attack on all Turk-aggression of a NATO ally, ish Cypriot towns on the isthe Council should adopt a land nor did Greek planes the Council should adopt a attack as promised. Neverthe-less the Council should adopt a less, the Council remained on an extraordinary alert.

Meeting Suspended

President Nielsen suspended the meeting at the end of the session rather than adjourning it to permit immediate reconvening if there is another flare-up.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson introduced a resolution, jointly sponsored by Britain, to put the Council on record endorsing the appeal of the Council president. As amended with suggestions from Bolivia, the Soviet Union and Cyprus, the resolution reaffirmed the President's ceasefire appeal, called for an immediate ceasefire "by all concerned" and cooperation with the commander of the U.N. peacekeeping force in Cyprus.

It asked all states to "refrain from any action that might exacerbate the situation or contribute to the broadening of hostilities."

Just as the vote was to be taken, Cypriot Ambassador Zenon Rossides ran up to Stevenson with a fresh demand for yet another change in the resolution, apparently on new instructions from Nicosia. Stevenson refused, and the Council voted 9 to 0, with the two Communists abstaining, to approve the compromise resolution.

Stalling Tactics

Stevenson warned the Council, as it was repeatedly stalled, that it must act.

"I ask that we proceed to the vote," he said, "and not subject this organization, in which the world has such hope, to further ridicule.

The stalling apparently was part of a Cypriot effort to win The emergency Council Council approval of a differ-

In supporting the Cypriot. a ceasefire resolution.

Deadlines set by Greek Cyp.

Soviet Union charged that the

in Cyprus

f all military operations government would make no gainst Cyprus. | concessions in the Cyprus

U.S. Task Force Sails From Naples

A task group of the U.S. Sixth Fleet sailed from Naples under emergency orders last night, apparently headed toward Cyprus.

A Navy spokesman said only, "The carrier Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the guided missile cruiser Boston and other ships making up a carrier task force, sailed at dusk from Naples and other southern Italian ports."

In Moscow, the official Soriet news agency Tass reeased a dispatch from the United Nations calling the Turkish attacks "piracy," "agression" and "an exact copy" of the American strike against Forth Viet-Nam.

Reports from Cyprus that the Makarios Government is seeking Soviet military aid could not be confirmed in Moscow. A spokesman for the Cyprus Embassy in Moscow said no instructions had been received on the subject.

In London, it was announced that Prime Minister Home had interrupted his Scottish vacation and was returning to London to keep in touch with the situation.

Cyprus Adamant, Would Risk War III

LONDON, Aug. 9 (UPI) Cyprus High Commissioner in London, A. G. Soteriades, said tonight the Greek Cypriot government would make no concessions in the Cyprus crisis "even if it means a third World War."

In a news conference statement Soteriades said, "Cyprus will not reconsider its position even if it means a third World War. Let those who want to avoid it, avoid it. Cyprus will not."